Dear Pastors,

We live in a culture that is consumed with novelty. New advances and approaches mark our society's never-ending quest for more effective technologies, products, and services. Old methods and ideas are routinely discarded, faintly remembered as stepping stones on the pathway to progress.

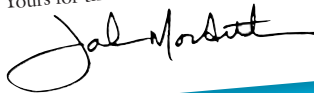

In many fields this pioneering attitude is helpful, producing great improvements in communication, transportation, and medicine. Yet, in some fields, the ever-demanding pursuit of something new has done more harm than good. I believe the church is one of those areas.

Without question, our world's infatuation with novelty has seeped into contemporary evangelicalism. Pastors and leaders are constantly tempted to approach ministry not as faithful shepherds, but as self-styled entrepreneurs—trying to come up with innovative strategies for how to entertain their congregations. The temptation is to run from fad to fad, always looking for the next avant-garde program that will keep church attendees coming back.

Thankfully, God has given us something far better than any "new and improved" church-growth method—namely, the "tried and true" testimony of His Word. As a living book, the Bible never needs to be improved because it is already perfect. It is sufficient for every need and applicable to every situation. It produces true spiritual growth. It equips believers to resist temptation and pursue purity. And it establishes absolute truth, even in the midst of a postmodern culture.

Our responsibility as pastors, then, is not to devise anything new. Instead, we are called to faithfully proclaim the 2,000-year-old message given by God Himself. We are, as the apostle Paul told Timothy, to "preach the Word." When we do so, we can be confident that we are using God's means to reach His people. The result is that, rather than being bounced around from gimmick to gimmick, our people will be radically transformed, as the Spirit of God uses His Word to change them forever.

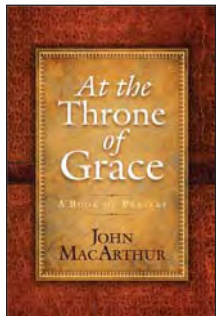

Yours for the Master,

CBD is pleased to have John MacArthur as guest columnist for the Pastors' Resources Catalog. Widely known for his thorough, candid, and practical approach to teaching God's Word, John MacArthur serves as pastor of Grace Community Church in Sun Valley, California; president of The Master's College and Seminary; and featured teacher on the Grace to You radio broadcast.

I started Saddleback Valley Community Church in Orange County, California, in 1980, and spent the next 15 years testing, applying, and refining the principles, processes, and practices in Purpose-Driven Church. Like a research and development center, we've experimented with all kinds of approaches to reaching, teaching, training, and sending out God's people. Saddleback has served as a laboratory for everything written in the book. The results have been very gratifying and, I believe, brought glory to God. I am continually humbled by God's power to use ordinary people in extraordinary ways.—Rick Warren

Because the Time Is Near

John MacArthur Explains the Book of Revelation

Why study the mysterious writings in Revelation? Does the end of the story really matter? No book in Scripture has been more misunderstood or misinterpreted than John's prophecy. MacArthur removes doubt and the cloud of obscurity to reveal the only New Testament text that includes a promised spiritual blessing for those who heed its message. 299 pages, softcover from Moody.

NEW AMERICAN COMMENTARY

The Messianic Hope

Is the Hebrew Bible Really Messianic?

Michael Rydelnik

A growing number of scholars, including evangelicals, hold to the concept that Old Testament texts historically interpreted as direct prophecies of the Messiah were not really messianic in their original intent. Jewish studies professor Rydelnik argues against this view, demonstrating how Jesus' own claim to his messiahship rests on OT references. Thought-provoking! 224 pages, hardcover from B&H.

WORD BIBLICAL COMMENTARY

The Pastoral Epistles

William D. Mounce

Regarded as a window on early church practices, the Pastoral Epistles are the subject of debate concerning their authorship. Drawing on Acts, extrabiblical traditions, and the disputed letters themselves, Mounce marshals impressive evidence to support the placement of these documents within the Pauline corpus.

A spirited defense demonstrating the relevancy of the letters for today's church. 641 pages, hardcover from Nelson.

Hell Is Real But I Hate to Admit It

Brian Jones

Does hell matter? Jones believes that the reason most Christians don't tell their friends and family about Jesus has nothing to do with not knowing how—it's because they don't think they need to. Drawing on Scripture, he leads you on a collision course with "apocalyptic urgency" that will strengthen your faith and free you to share the gospel. 272 pages, softcover from Cook.
