

A close-up photograph of a person's hands holding a nest made of dry sticks and twigs. A single, speckled blue egg is visible in the center of the nest. The background is a light-colored, textured fabric.

That's the mystery
and wonder that
God brings to us.
Taking what's broken,
what seems to be irreparable,
and making it whole.