INTRODUCTION

THE BIBLE

The Bible is a book of books, the story of God. It is God's way of having people come to know Him and His plan for mankind. It is not about organizations but individuals—Old Testament and New Testament believers who, by faith, form the true family of God throughout eternity.

The Bible reveals the fact that God has existed from eternity past to eternity future, and that He is supreme, all-knowing, all-present, all-powerful, and without equal. "In the beginning" this self-existing God "created the heaven and the earth" (Genesis 1:1). In that same beginning "was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.... All things were made by Him" (John 1:1, 3). Also, in that same beginning, "the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters" (Genesis 1:2). This same Spirit of God is the Comforter, the Spirit of Truth, who "dwells with you, and shall be in you" (John 14:17), the One who lives within the heart of every believer. Being all-knowing, God knew from the beginning what would happen in the course of human history, including man's temptation and fall, but those circumstances have not stopped His purposes from being fulfilled, including His plan for redeeming man through Jesus Christ.

In addition, the Bible tells us of Satan (in Hebrew, "adversary"), also called the devil (in Greek, "slanderer"). He is "the great dragon...that old serpent, called the Devil and Satan, which deceives the whole world" (Revelation 12:9). This "liar" and "father of" lies (John 8:44) is not just deceptive—he is downright deadly, "a murderer from the beginning." So dangerous is he that believers are commanded to "put on the whole armor of God" (Ephesians 6:11) to withstand his cunning craftiness. If believers "resist the devil [in God's strength]...he will flee from [them]" (James 4:7). Ultimately, however, God Himself will cast the devil (and all his followers) "into the lake of fire" (Revelation 20:10).

The great message of the Bible is that Christ came to this earth to live a perfect, sinless life; to teach us about the truth; and to die as the true Passover Lamb—the innocent sacrificial atonement for our sins. Thus, the Scriptures boldly proclaim, in a thousand ways, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and you shall be saved, and your house" (Acts 16:31).

At first, the Bible may seem difficult for the average person to understand. But as the reader yields himself or herself to God, the Holy Spirit (who dwells within the believer) will lead the individual, first to Himself and then to a fuller knowledge of God and a more complete understanding of His master plan. The Holy Spirit will glorify the Lord Jesus Christ and show the reader God's perfect love in the compassion of Christ, who touches needy lives with His holy teachings and His divine miracles. The person's eyes will be opened, and he or she will come to see the Lord Jesus Christ, who fulfilled the messianic prophecies of the Old Testament. (See John 14:21, 26; 15:26–27; 16:8–15.)

The reader will also discover that the Old Testament is not dry reading but the very foundation for believing in the Lord Jesus Christ, as He is seen in ancient prophecies and types. As the old saying goes, "Christ is in the Old Testament concealed and in the New Testament revealed." Christ is seen in the New Testament as the true and sinless Man, the true and faithful One, God the Son—our King, Prophet, and High Priest.

Because the Bible is God's sacred message to humanity, it is often referred to as God's Word. Second Timothy 3:16 says it is "given by inspiration of God" (theopneustos in Greek, or "God-breathed"). Our Lord declared, "Scripture cannot be broken" (John 10:35). Second Peter 1:21 affirms that the Bible is not of human origin, but rather, "holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

The depth of this message is so vast that although the good news of salvation from sin may be, in its essence, simple, for a greater comprehension of God and a closer walk with Him, it takes many readings of the Bible, under the Holy Spirit's guidance, to more fully understand and apply it in its myriad applications.

It is thus the prayer of the publisher of this Bible that you will seek that deeper understanding by diligently reading and studying these sacred pages. May it bring new joy and blessing into your life.

SPECIAL FEATURES OF THE KING JAMES VERSION EASY READ BIBLE (KJVER)

The basic text of the King James Version Easy Read Bible (KJVER) is the beloved King James Version of 1611, with minor word changes in the case of clearly archaic or obsolete words, as indicated under the subhead below entitled “Antiquated Words Clarified and Defined.” The following is an overview of the special features of the KJVER, with its distinctive tools for studying and understanding Scripture:

RED LETTERING INCORPORATED INTO BOTH OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS

The red lettering in this Bible version is unique in that it may be found in both the Old and New Testaments. While the publisher believes firmly that all of the Bible is God’s Word and is therefore inerrant (see 2 Timothy 3:16), the placing of Christ’s words in red in the New Testament has proven to be a special help and blessing to countless people over the years, and this feature was selected to be a part of the KJVER as well. In addition, this Bible version uses red type to highlight the direct words of God throughout the entire Old Testament. It is hoped that this emphasis will add blessing and clarity to your Old Testament devotional reading and study.

You should be aware, however, that the red lettering is only suggestive. In many instances in both testaments, scholars may differ on whether this or that particular verse or passage should appear in red. Moreover, since neither the Old Testament Hebrew nor the New Testament Greek manuscripts use quotation marks, it is often difficult to determine whether God or Christ is speaking directly.

Nevertheless, great effort has gone into color coding the text as accurately as possible. The editors have marked verses in red for both testaments in an attitude of prayerful study and dependence on God. This labor, it is trusted, will indeed bring greater enjoyment and understanding to your Bible reading. It is our prayer that the aid of red lettering, as well as the shaded areas of text described under the next subhead, will enable you to better understand God’s holy Word and to love and worship God in all His redemptive fullness.

Examples of red lettering in both Old and New Testaments:

²⁴And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature after its kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast of the earth after its kind: and it was so.

⁴But He answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God.^j

DEU 8:3

SHADED AREAS OF TEXT INDICATE QUOTATIONS FROM GOD

In both the Old and New Testaments, when biblical speakers or angels quote the words of God or Christ, these words are shaded in red. In the New Testament, citations of the direct words of God from the Old Testament are also shaded (as in the case of many of the Old Testament prophecies concerning the coming of Christ).

Readers are reminded that the red type and shading in the text are offered as a study help to the Scriptures, and that all of the Bible, be it in red or black print, is indeed God’s infallible Word.

Example of shaded text:

²³Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a Son, and they shall call His name Immanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us.

ISA 7:14

DESIGNED FOR INCREASED READABILITY

Pronouns:

For increased readability, the King James Version Easy Read Bible changes all second-person singular pronouns to their modern equivalents: thee (you), thy (your), thine (yours), and thyself (yourself). Whenever these forms reflect the name of deity, they begin with a capital letter.

Verb Forms:

In addition to changing the old English second-person pronouns, archaic verb forms have been changed to their modern counterparts. For example, knoweth becomes knows, shouldest becomes should, shalt becomes shall, and holpen becomes helped. These verb changes involve only the spelling of verb tenses and do not alter the tenses themselves.

Modernizing second-person pronouns and archaic verb forms removes about 98 percent of the confusion that some readers have with the King James Bible. A few other textual changes, such as to wit (that is or to know), even (evening), and armour (armor), were made as well.

Even with these minor changes, the KJVER still presents the King James translation in its verbal, formal-equivalent accuracy. It remains a near word-for-word translation, as opposed to a dynamic-equivalent translation that more subjectively translates expression for expression. Unless you are a time traveler from old England, you will scarcely notice the difference, except for recognizing an improved understanding of God’s Word.

Easy-to-Read Format:

Not only does the KJVER allow for a greater comprehension of the text, but the formatting of the pages has been especially designed to be easier on the eyes for reading. This intentional presentation includes a clean look and greater spacing between the lines of text. The font is called Tundra, and it has a consistent thickness to prevent eye fatigue.

ANTIQUATED WORDS CLARIFIED AND DEFINED

Along with the updates of archaic verb forms and other minor textual changes for clarity that were noted above, the KJVER helps the contemporary reader to comprehend the text in the following ways:

- A number of antiquated words and phrases have been underlined, with the definitions of these words provided in smaller typeface directly below the verses in which they are found. Please note that, for text readability and for simplification, this underlining occurs only at the first use of a word in a given chapter of the Bible, even if the word is later repeated in the same chapter. However, if applicable, the words are again underlined in subsequent chapters at their first appearance, so that you are reminded of the definitions as you begin reading a new chapter of the Bible. You should not necessarily view the explanatory words as alternate or corrective translations but merely as aids for understanding the word or verse.

Example of defined antiquated words:

¹⁹Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.
righteous; secretly

- For additional clarity, certain more difficult terms and phrases have been exchanged for modern equivalents in the text itself. For easy reference, a list of all of such changes may be found in the section entitled “An Alphabetical List of Easy-Read Word Exchanges.” You will see that, even with these word exchanges, no doctrine has been changed.

HEBREW NAMES OF GOD EXPLAINED AND DEFINED

The Bible contains a number of names of God that contribute to our understanding of various aspects of His nature and character. Some names of God are used thousands of times in the Old Testament. For a fuller discussion of these names and their significance, please refer to the section “The Hebrew Names and Attributes of God.” In addition, the following feature is found in the text itself in order to help increase your awareness and understanding: less common names of God have been underlined and then defined in the notations directly following the verses in which they occur.

For simplification and text readability, more common names of God—El, Elohim, Jehovah, and Jehovah Elohim—are not underlined or defined within the text. However, again, these names and their definitions may be found in “The Hebrew Names and Attributes of God” section.

Example of names of God defined:

³²And he said, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: Perhaps ten shall be found there. And He said, I will not destroy it for ten’s sake. Adonaist

Studying the names of God will prove to be a continual source of inspiration and blessing. You will need to consult the explanatory pages for the basic definitions of the names of God only a few times before being able to remember their particular meaning(s), and you will soon find your Bible reading enriched when encountering a particular name of God chosen by the Holy Spirit for our illumination.

PLURAL FORMS OF WORDS IDENTIFIED

The Hebrew of the Old Testament often uses a plural form for deity. To indicate which form is being used, the abbreviations “s.f.” (singular form) and “p.f.” (plural form) immediately follow the names of God in the end-of-verse notes that identify a particular Hebrew word that is translated as “God” or “Lord” in the text. In addition, plural forms of “you” and “your” in relation to people are indicated with with a “p” directly following the word.

Examples of plural forms identified:

²In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord:
my sore ran in the night, and ceased not:
my soul refused to be comforted.

Adonai^{p.f.}; hand stretched out

¹Vow, and pay to the LORD your^p God: let all that be round about Him bring presents to Him that ought to be feared.

CROSS-REFERENCES PROVIDED

Cross-references in Scripture for certain biblical events and themes are listed directly below the verses in which they are found.

Example of cross-references:

²And on the seventh day God ended His work which He had made; and He rested on the seventh day from all His work which He had made.^c

HEB 4:10; JOHN 5:17

“ESSENTIAL THEMES STRING-REFERENCE BIBLE STUDY” INTEGRATED THROUGHOUT THE TEXT

The KJVER offers a unique Bible resource called the “Essential Themes String-Reference Bible Study.” This tool enables you to conduct in-depth studies related to (1) God and His nature, (2) God’s plan for mankind and the world, and (3) the nature and role of human beings created in God’s image and redeemed by Him. These main topical areas fall under the simple titles “God,” “Plan,” and “Man.” The Essential Themes String-Reference Bible Study may be used in two ways:

First, it may be found in the footnotes at the bottom of the pages throughout this Bible:

Example of Essential Themes String-Reference Bible Study in footnotes:

THE HISTORY OF CREATION

1In the beginning God created the heaven
and the earth.^a ACTS 17:24; JOHN 1:1

^a GOD: God—Gen 1:1 | Next: Gen 1:17

GOD: God, Son, Jesus—Gen 1:1 | Next: Gen 1:26

PLAN: Plan—Gen 1:1–31 | Next: Gen 2:7–9

^b GOD: Holy Spirit—Gen 1:2 | Next: Gen 6:3

Second, all the Scripture references in this study may also be found in one place, under the section with the same title, “Essential Themes String-Reference Bible Study,” in the front matter of the Bible. That section provides an overview of all the possibilities included in this helpful study tool and explains how to use it. With this study, you can follow the verse listings for many essential biblical themes as they appear throughout Scripture. The topics and subtopics include about ninety different themes. You will find that the subtopics and verses listed provide a solid foundation for each subject. However, you may also wish to add to the verses included in the tracks and develop your own related themes or new topics.

OUR PRAYER FOR YOU

It is the earnest desire of the publisher that this Bible will bring glory to God and will be helpful to those who seek to know Him better. May many find their Savior because of these pages, and, finding Him, may they continue in the years beyond in the joy, peace, and rest that only the Almighty One can give. (See Matthew 11:28–30.)

Good theological doctrine tells us that it is only the original Hebrew and Greek texts that are inspired by God, not the copies or the translations. (See 2 Timothy 3:16; 2 Peter 1:21.) We believe, however, that God so preserved the manuscripts from the ancient world that we do indeed have the entire Bible, and that we have it accurately. That is what we present here, with the sincere prayer to God and reliance on His promise that His sacred and holy Word will accomplish the change in hearts by the new birth, and the edifying and blessing of the saints, for which He alone provided.

So shall My word be that goes forth out of My mouth: it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

—Isaiah 55:11

THE HEBREW NAMES AND ATTRIBUTES OF GOD

The Hebrew Old Testament names of God teach us about His character. It is a worshipful experience to study the names and attributes of God. It both molds our own faith and character and moves our heart. May this study lead you to seek to follow Him more closely and to love Him more deeply.

Throughout the text of the Old Testament in the KJVER, there are end-of-verse notes that distinguish some of the various Hebrew names of God underlying our English translation. These notes correspond to the underlined name(s) in the preceding verse. Please read the further explanations of these names below. For simplification and text readability, the more common names of God—El, Elohim, Jehovah, and Jehovah Elohim—have not been underlined or defined within the text, but the less common names of God have been.

The Hebrew of the Old Testament often uses a plural form for deity. Thus, the abbreviations “s.f.” and “p.f.” following these identifications of the names of God indicate respectively singular form and plural form. Whether one emphasizes the plural of majesty, the intensive plural, or the hint of triunity in these plural-singular forms, one thing is clear: the Scriptures nowhere teach that Bible believers should worship many gods. In Deuteronomy 6:4, God Himself clearly declares, “Hear O Israel: the LORD [Jehovah^{s.f.}] our God [Elohim^{p.f.}] is one LORD [Jehovah^{s.f.}].” In Mark 12:29, the Lord Jesus Christ declares, “The first of all the commandments is, Hear O Israel; the Lord [kurios^{s.f.}] our God [theos^{s.f.}] is one Lord.”

Example of plural form for deity identified:

²In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord:
my sore ran in the night, and ceased not:
my soul refused to be comforted.

Adonai^{p.f.}; hand stretched out

It is the publisher’s hope that the names of God indicated throughout this Bible will show forth the Almighty’s wonderful attributes.

El, Eloah, Elohim

God is given the title El, meaning “the Strong One,” about 250 times. He is called Eloah, a singular title that means “the Mighty One,” about 50 times, mostly in the book of Job. Elohim, a plural form of Eloah that means “the Almighty,” occurs about 2,500 times, beginning in Genesis 1:1.

Jehovah

This name means “He Is” or “the Self-Existing One.” Jehovah is the most frequently used name for God, occurring about 6,000 times and generally translated as “the LORD.” It is used first in connection with Elohim in Genesis 2:4: “The LORD God [Jehovah Elohim] made the earth and the heavens.” In the name Jehovah, three periods of existence come together in one word: the past, the present, and the future—He that always was, that always is, and that ever is to come, as is interpreted in Revelation 1:4.

This name parallels the word “Lord” used for Jesus Christ in the New Testament.

Adon

This is a singular form of God meaning “Lord,” “Master,” “Possessor,” or “Proprietor.” It first appears in Exodus 23:17 as Adon Jehovah and is found about 30 times.

Adonai

This is the plural form of Adon. It is used as “Lord” or “Master” only in reference to a divine title. It occurs about 290 times.

Divine titles that are compound in form occur throughout the Old Testament by combining the names of God with other titles. In effect, these form “double” names of God that provide us with a sense of His greatness and omnipotence.

El Shaddai^{p.f.} is translated as “Almighty God,” “God Almighty,” or “the Almighty,” meaning “God is the All-Powerful One.” The title is found seven times in its full form and 41 times in the form “the Almighty.” Most references are in the book of Job.

ESSENTIAL THEMES STRING-REFERENCE BIBLE STUDY

The Essential Themes String-Reference Bible Study is designed to assist you in conducting in-depth studies related to (1) God and His nature, (2) God's plan for mankind and the world, and (3) the nature and role of human beings created in God's image and redeemed by Him.

With this study, you can chronologically follow the verse listings for many great themes in Scripture. The best place to begin is to review the featured topics and subtopics, below, which include about ninety different tracks.

The first main topic is "God." It includes twenty-seven subtopics that correspond to verses relating to attributes of God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit. Some sample themes are "God's Grace," "Omniscience," and "Savior."

The second main topic is "Plan." This portion consists of twenty-four subtopics that relate to verses illustrating how God has a plan that spans from eternity past to eternity future or that reflect His implementation of that plan. Some sample themes are "Covenants-Land," "Fellowship with God," and "End Times."

The third main topic is "Man." It contains forty-one subtopics that correspond to various aspects of God's relationship with humanity, including His dealings with Israel and the church. Some sample themes are "Hope," "Prayer," and "Salvation."

As stated in the introduction to this Bible, even with the variety of subtopics, this study can cover only a partial listing of all the potential biblical themes and study tracks and therefore should not be considered exhaustive. You may wish to add to the verses included in these studies or develop your own string-reference studies on related themes or new topics. However, the listed verses provide a solid foundation for each subject and much material for devotional use.

HOW THE STUDY WORKS:

You may make use of this study through two different methods, each of which will give you increased understanding of the Bible’s overarching message and its essential themes:

1. After reviewing the available topics and subtopics, choose a particular subtopic to follow, and then look up all the verses listed directly under that theme. The subtopics begin at their earliest mention in the Bible and can be followed sequentially where they are found throughout the rest of the Scriptures.
2. When reading a book of the Bible, make note of the alphabetical footnotes in the text related to corresponding topical studies. If you desire to follow a theme further, you may conduct a study of subsequent verses related to that theme by following the entire string, or sequence, of references from verse to verse through the footnotes. For example, if you are reading the book of Exodus, and you note the letter “c” at the end of Exodus 17:14, you will see the following in the footnote: “PLAN: Bible—Exo 17:14 | Next: Exo 24:7.” You will then be able to go to the next verse indicated in the footnote (Exodus 24:7 in our example) to read another portion of the Bible that reflects the same theme, and so on.

Example of Essential Themes String-Reference Bible Study in footnotes:

THE HISTORY OF CREATION

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.^a

ACTS 17:24; JOHN 1:1

^a GOD: God—Gen 1:1 | Next: Gen 1:17

GOD: God, Son, Jesus—Gen 1:1 | Next: Gen 1:26

PLAN: Plan—Gen 1:1–31 | Next: Gen 2:7–9

^b GOD: Holy Spirit—Gen 1:2 | Next: Gen 6:3

You may choose to do a partial study of a theme covering one or several books of the Bible, or you may decide to do a full study of a theme covering the entire Bible.

We trust that the Essential Themes String-Reference Bible Study will enable you to enhance your knowledge of God, His eternal plan, and His relationship with mankind.
