Answering the Psalmist's Perplexity

James Hely Hutchinson

Exploring the covenant-relationships spectrum, the confusion of Psalm 89, and more, Hutchinson tackles a range of matters related to our understanding of redemptive history. Overall, his aim is to enhance our grasp of God's breathtaking plan of salvation, our ability to handle Scripture correctly, and our worship of the Master. 272 pages, softcover from InterVarsity.

HJ008862 Retail $28.00 $20.99

The Spirit of Justice: True Stories of Faith, Race and Resistance.

Jemar Tisby

The uncomfortable realities of compromise and complicity must be shared to have an accounting of the truth. But just as there were racist ideas, there were those who resisted them. Sharing motivating stories of those who agitated for justice in the name of Christianity, Tisby offers a wellspring of hope that inspires a legacy of liberation. 240 pages, hardcover from Zondervan.

HJ0144854 Retail $29.99 $20.99

The Gift of Thorns

A.J. Swoboda

Create a "theology of desire" by understanding how to view passions and unwanted yearnings and cultivate longings that promote spiritual freedom. Current culture promotes instant gratification, while Christian counterparts sometimes demonize inner wants. Swoboda retraces Scripture's theme of thorns to clarify how desires—whether attained or not—play an important role in life, wisdom, and understanding the power of Christ. 256 pages, hardcover from Zondervan.

The People of the Parables

R. Alan Culpepper

Expand your understanding of Jesus' parables by digging deep into life as experienced by characters in first-century Galilee. Drawing from primary literature, important archaeological discoveries, and recent research, Culpepper introduces you to shepherds, farmers, fishermen, and other workers; public officials; religious leaders; and outcasts. Explore how they lived, socialized, worshiped, learned, conducted business, and more. 402 pages, softcover from Westminster John Knox.

HJ268848 Retail $45.00 $36.99

Shaman and Sage

Michael Horton

Many identify as "spiritual but not religious." Horton shows how this phenomenon—with its hallmarks of autonomy, individualism, and utopianism—is rooted in ancient Greek philosophy. He traces the development of a utopian view of the individual: a divine soul longing for freedom. Rather than obey a higher power, many today seek to find "the divine self" within. 528 pages, hardcover from Eerdmans.

HJ877116 Retail $64.99 $47.99

Christmaker: A Life of John the Baptist

James F. McGrath

John the Baptist is far more than Jesus' unkempt forerunner! Look closer, and he emerges as an influential religious leader in his own right. Examining overlooked New Testament details and long-neglected sources, McGrath revisits the events of John's life, introduces key social and religious context, and explores his far-reaching impact on the history of religion. 184 pages, softcover from Eerdmans.

HJ2884008 Retail $24.99 $18.99

John of History, Baptist of Faith

James F. McGrath

In the popular imagination, John the Baptist generally plays the supporting role of Jesus' unkempt forerunner. But meticulous historical study reveals more. Applying historical-critical methodology to New Testament writings and the Mandaean Book of John, a holy text of the last extant Gnostic sect, McGrath delves deeper into the Baptist's beliefs and far-reaching influence. 486 pages, hardcover from Eerdmans.

Perspectives on the Historical Adam and Eve: Four Views

Edited by

Kenneth D. Keathley

Adam and Eve are the first to appear "on stage" in Scripture's narrative—but how can we best understand the historicity of these characters? The question deserves careful consideration! In this thought-provoking, essay-and-response work, leading evangelical scholars examine the biblical teachings, scientific evidence, and theological implications associated with four views: the non-historical, mytho-historical, genealogical, and recent. 240 pages, softcover from B&H.

When Narcissism Comes to Church

Chuck DeGroat

What is narcissism and how does it infiltrate a church? DeGroat knows—he's been working with people affected by its destructive power for over 20 years. He's counseled leaders with the disorder as well as individuals and communities seeking healing from its devastation. Combining compassion and candor, this comprehensive resource offers biblically based advice and hope for recovery. 200 pages, softcover from InterVarsity.

In Church As It Is in Heaven

Jamaal E. Williams & Timothy Paul Jones

A multiethnic church is not only a Kingdom reality—we can work to create this diversity today! Williams and Jones unmask biblical warrant for drawing congregants from every nation, tribe, and language and share their own church story of racial transformation. Diversity is not simply an ideal or abstract theory for the afterlife. Make it a reality now! 224 pages, hardcover from InterVarsity.

Bully Pulpit

Michael J. Kruger

What is your church looking for in a pastor? A gentle servant-leader or a heavy-handed authoritarian? Too often we encourage improper behavior. Sometimes ministers themselves don't take their professional code of ethics seriously. This seminary president wisely tackles the causes of spiritual abuse, how to spot it, and what to do about it. 192 pages, hardcover from Zondervan.

Don't Hold Back

David Platt

From the U.S. capital, best-selling author Platt calls for an end to the time of disillusionment, discouragement, and division—and a whole-hearted return to the true biblical message. To him, this means working for, not against, one another when we disagree; eradicating racial division; practicing justice, compassion, and lovingkindness; spreading the gospel; and seeking satisfaction in God alone. 192 pages, hardcover from Multnomah.

Losing Our Religion

Russell Moore

With evangelical congregations ripped apart by political division, culture wars, nationalism, scandals, and injustice, many Christians have grown jaded—and left the church. Moore counsels disillusioned believers to step into an uncertain future, first by renouncing the politicized, status quo religion that led us to this moment of reckoning, then by repenting and starting afresh. 272 pages, hardcover from Penguin.

The MacArthur New Testament Commentary, 33 Volumes

Intellectually stimulating and personally relevant, this commentary series is ideal for pastors, teachers, and laypeople alike. With practical illustrations and clear verse-by-verse exposition, John MacArthur avoids becoming overly technical, even while tackling problematic topics such as the role of women, spiritual gifts, and the rapture. Using a dispensationalist approach, his purpose is to provide life applications. 33 hardcovers, from Moody.

Kerux Commentary

1 Peter

Timothy E. Miller & Bryan Murawski

A thorough commentary designed to help you comprehend Peter's epistle—and deliver a message that's biblically sound, cohesive, and dynamic! Offering both exegetical and homiletical perspectives, Miller and Murawski's resource unpacks the heart of the text: an encouragement to first-century readers regarding God's calling, his redemption, and his power to sustain believers as "exiles" in the world. 296 pages, hardcover from Kregel.

Acts: Logion Press Commentary

Stanley M. Horton

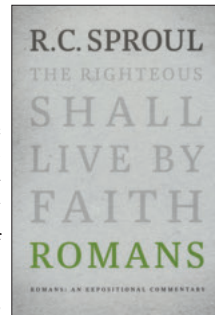

Like the author of Acts, Pentecostal scholar Horton brings a combination of careful research and practical experiences to this study of Luke's inspired record and, specifically, the purpose of Pentecost. Taking an in-depth look at the early church, he explores how the story is still being written in the lives of believers today. 464 pages, softcover.

The Psalms, 4 Volumes A Christ-Centered Commentary

Christopher Ash

Although focusing on the Old Testament meaning of Psalms is common, Ash asks readers to study this book with a Christ-focused approach. This comprehensive 4-volume commentary examines all 150 psalms, exploring how they are quoted and echoed throughout the New Testament. Ash also includes thoughts from patristic, medieval, Reformation, and post-Reformation scholars for a full examination. 2480 pages total, hardcovers from Crossway.

The Gospel of Matthew: Eerdmans Critical Commentary

Walter T. Wilson

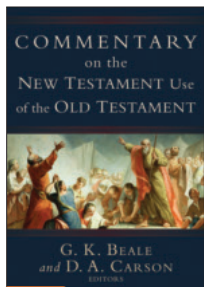

In his 2-volume commentary, Wilson interprets the narrative through the lens of a faction of disaffected Jewish believers in the late first century. He explicates Matthew's intended message to that audience regarding morality, liturgy, mission, eschatology, and other topics. Wilson's deep contextualization, informed by years of studying New Testament origins, makes this a go-to resource. Approx. 640 pages each, hardcovers from Eerdmans.

The Book of Micah

James D. Nogalski

Micah spoke to the people of Judah millennia ago, though his prophecy has the same power to change Christians today. Nogalski explicates the major themes of Micah—fidelity to Yahweh, abuses of power, and the juxtaposition of judgment and hope. His fresh commentary combines scholarly rigor with an evangelical point of view and considers the historical and theological contexts. 300 pages, hardcover from Eerdmans.

Ancient Christian Commentary on Scripture, 30 Volumes

Edited by Thomas C. Oden

Hear ancient voices of the church speak as they engage with sacred Scripture in Christianity's formative years. Promoting a vital link between today's believers and our ancestors in the faith, these illuminating volumes invite us to attend to the timeless theological, spiritual, and pastoral insights of Jerome, Origen, Gregory the Great, and other revered patristic figures. 30 softcovers, from InterVarsity.

Faith That Endures

J. Dwight Pentecost

Through practical, verse-by-verse analysis, Pentecost shares insights into achieving victory amid adversity. He demonstrates how the writer of Hebrews encouraged patient endurance by demonstrating Christ's pre-eminence—as incarnate revelation from God, as redeemer and ruler superior to Moses, and as priest greater than Aaron—and applications for believers today. 224 pages, softcover from Kregel.

Matthew: The John Walvoord Prophecy Commentary

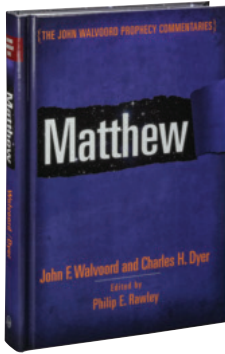

John F. Walvoord & Dr. Charles H. Dyer, edited by Philip E. Rawley

Bridging the Old Testament and the New, Matthew's Gospel presents Jesus both as the prophesied Messiah and as a king who will reign on Earth at his second coming. In this fourth installment of Walvoord's commentary series, the authors illuminate the text chapter by chapter, providing an accessible overview in the dispensationalist tradition. Based on the ESV. 416 pages, hardcover from Moody.

The Prophecy of Isaiah

J. Alec Motyer

Extolling Isaiah's brilliance of style and metaphor, his arresting understanding of God's holiness, and his kaleidoscopic vision of the restoration of Israel and the world, Motyer offers a comprehensive exegesis of the prophet's writings, accessible to scholars and non-linguists alike. Utilizing the NIV, he explores the grammatical, historical, literary, and theological dimensions of the text. 544 pages, softcover from InterVarsity.

Seeing Beauty and Saying Beautifully

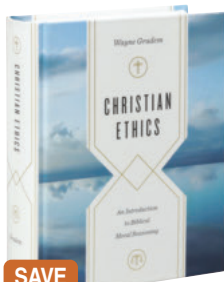

John Piper

A winsome tribute to the kingdom-building power of carefully crafted words! Piper's lovely meditation on George Herbert's soulful 17th-century poetry, George Whitefield's fiery 18th-century preaching, and C.S. Lewis's imagination-fueled 20th-century writing spotlights the importance of Christ-exalting eloquence in our praise of God and proclamation of his gospel.

Is Jesus Truly God?

How the Bible Teaches the Divinity of Christ

Gregory R. Lanier

Was Jesus merely a radical prophet, or was he "fully God and fully man"—the author of history entering his own narrative? Demonstrating that the question of Christ's divinity has been at the center of theological discussion since the early church, Lanier argues from both the Old and New Testaments that the latter view is the truly biblical interpretation. 144 pages, softcover from Crossway.

Jesus and the Powers

N.T. Wright & Michael F. Bird

How should Christians engage with today's politically fractured world? Wright and Bird argue biblically that we should pursue active involvement that encourages free democratic societies—while opposing totalitarianism and nationalism. They reflect throughout on their approach's relevance to current world events, including the Russia/Ukraine conflict, Chinese/Taiwanese tensions, and more. 208 pages, softcover from Zondervan.

The Deconstruction of Christianity

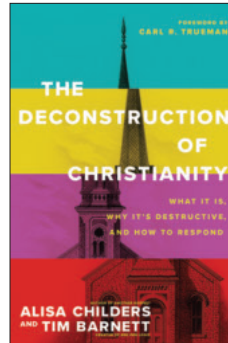

Alisa Childers & Tim Barnett

"Deconstruction" is a movement sweeping through today's church, causing some traditional Christian beliefs to be labeled "toxic" and triggering confusion and consternation across generations. In this eye-opening book, Childers and Barnett help readers understand what deconstruction is, where it comes from, why it's compelling to some, how it disorients lives, and ways to lovingly respond. 240 pages, softcover from Tyndale.
